

School of Information S

1. Introduction-

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar University of Social Sciences was founded in 2015-16 with Master of Library and Information Science program. The School of Studies is located in the Mahatma Phule Library of the University. The school has been playing an important role in the field of information education since its inception. Library and Information Science, Computer Science, Mass Communication, Information Technology and Information Science courses are conducted in the school and educate students at degree, master and doctoral level. The syllabus of the school is based on the CBCS. Its mission is also to make it a better place for teaching and learning as per the mission of the university. Its main objective is to continuously encourage teaching and research activities and to make information scientists available to the society.

2. The following activities were conducted by the school of Information Science:

1. A two-day National Conference was held on 21 and 22 August 2019 on the topic "Rejuvenating Ranganathan's Philosophy".
2. One-day seminar was organized On August 12, 2020
3. A three-day international virtual conference was organized on 27- 29 October on "Preparation of Library and Information Services in New Normal" under joint aegis of Ambedkar University of Social Sciences, Mhow and Indore Division Library Association. More than 200 people participated in it.

3. Future Plans:

1. Establishment of a full pledge school instead of self-financing mode
2. Signing of Memorandum of Understanding and conducting regular conferences and seminars on the basis of collaboration with leading Indian universities